Program Summaries

Semester:

ACES/ENG in Brazil at University of Vicosa

This program, offered in summer or full semester. There are a variety of academic programs in which to enroll, as well as internship and research opportunities. The semester program requires at least 1-2 semesters of Portuguese language while the summer program does not require Portuguese. In both programs students study Portuguese.

ACES in Spain Comillas

Studying at Universidad Pontificia Comillas allows students to examine engineering from a different angle. Courses are taught in Spanish as well as English and taken alongside Spanish students in many engineering disciplines. Students may take courses in the faculties of Engineering, Computer Science, Political Science, and International Relations and Business.

ACES in the Netherlands at WUR in Wageningen

Wageningen University and Research Centre is the leading life science university in Europe. The language of instruction in many courses is English. It is an ideal site for students interested in crop science and environmental science, but also has applicable courses in engineering disciplines.

ACES in Ireland at University College Dublin

UCD is the largest university in Ireland and a great destination for ACES students. A wide variety of courses are offered in both engineering disciplines as well as general education requirements and ACES electives. This is a competitive program that requires a GPA of at least 3.25.

Summer:

ACES in Argentina- Buenos Aires Summer

Students will study an elective course taught in English and a Spanish for foreigners course. Spanish will be offered at the beginner and intermediate levels. Students will live in host families near the university and this is the best way to immerse oneself in Argentinean culture.

Summer Study Tours:

IBIP- International Business Immersion Program, May 14-26, 2016

Don't miss this opportunity to study international agribusiness supply chains by experiencing them first-hand in Brazil! Spring 2016 semester course, ACE/BADM 436; Two-week study tour to Brazil & Argentina. Fall 2016 seven-week course that meets once a week, with small group project and final presentation in the fall of 2016 on the eve of the College of ACES Career Fair.

ACES ABE/TSM Summer Work Project in South Africa at UKZN

During spring semester, students work in teams with South African students via Skype on engineering-based projects that address local community and industry needs. Students travel to South Africa for approximately one month to implement their projects and participate in nature excursions and cultural programs. (alternate years- 2017 next offer).

ACES/ENG China Summer Research and Cultural Immersion Program

This 6 week summer program at Zhejiang University has 3 components: industry visits, research experience with Dr. Xinlei Wang and Chinese language and culture course. The language course is customized for the group to include cultural lectures and field trips specifically related to their program. No prior knowledge of Mandarin is necessary.
