Program Summaries

FACULTY LED:

ACES in South Africa: Service Learning, Child, Family, Health and Agriculture
The program consists of a 20-day study tour to Cape Town, South Africa featuring cultural/historical tours and 2 weeks of volunteer work. Volunteer opportunities include, but are not limited to, HIV/AIDS education, childcare, healthcare, and community projects in Cape Town and surrounding townships. This program also includes a course during the previous semester.

ACES in Ghana: Identity Research Experience
This course focuses on ethnic identity development in the family context with an emphasis on Africans and people of African descent. Students will explore established and emerging theories related to identity development within extended families and examine why and how learning about identity, family, and community in historical and contemporary Ghana can provide identity development insight for African Americans in the U.S.

SUMMER:

ACES in France at UniLaSalle: Food Heritage Tour
This summer course compares agricultural systems in France, Italy and the Netherlands and addresses topics such as innovative initiatives in food production and processing, food quality labels, and landscape research. Through lectures, workshops and field visits, students will gain insights into regional cultural landscapes and discover what makes European food production unique.

ACES Study & Intern in Greece: American Farm School in Greece
The Dimitris Perrotis College of Agricultural Studies in Thessaloniki, Greece, offers a six-week program that fuses practical, hands-on agricultural work experience with a unique introduction to the culture and traditions of Greece. The program includes classroom and fieldwork exploration of the dynamic and varied world of Greek agriculture and food industry, as well as exposure to daily life in Greece.

SEMESTER:

IAGE Exchange: Uppsala University:
Uppsala University hosts many international students, and makes it a priority to include all students in the university community. A variety of courses are offered in HDFS-related subjects, and research opportunities are available for interested students.

ACES in Brazil at University of Vicosa:
Located north of Rio de Janeiro, the University of Vicosa offers courses in Housekeeping, Early Childhood Education, and the Social Sciences that translate well to students in HDFS at the University of Illinois. This program requires at least 2 semesters of Portuguese language experience.

ACES in New Zealand at Massey University:
This program offers a variety of coursework for HDFS students, including Human Development, Studies of Infant and Toddlers, and Adolescent Development. There is additional coursework available that fulfills ACES electives as well as general education requirements.
